

DANIEL MOISEI

Frontend Developer

Who am I?

I'm a frontend developer with a strong business perspective and a background in UI/UX design.

I care about the projects I work on and do everything in my power to see them succeed, and I'm excited to find new concepts and ideas to help build!

Skills and technologies

Core Web Development

JavaScript & ReactJS - HTML5 - CSS3 - REST APIs - Git

Secondary skills

Basic data structures - Firebase - User-centered design
UI/UX design - Business thinking - Teamwork

Languages

English (native) - Romanian (native)

Professional experience

Buyapowa

UI/UX Designer

January - May 2020

Buyapowa provides and implements refer-a-friend programmes that leverage the social connectivity of today's world.

My time here was divided between working on additional assets for the updated website and helping pave the way for an innovative referral system by refining the UI and UX aspects of client-sided tools.

DesignCrowd (freelance)

UI/UX Designer

2017 - 2020

Throughout my three years as a freelancer, I've worked on various projects, each time helping the client take their vision from an ideation stage into a development-ready state.

Most of this was accomplished through open discussion about what we were trying to build, which helped us find the weakest points in the product and adjust them accordingly.

TEDxCaleaDomneasca

Social Media Manager

June - September 2018

This local TEDx event was the result of a joint effort between two of Galati's non-profit organisations.

Being part of one myself, I volunteered to help promote the event through online and offline means. As a result, we achieved our goal of having the maximum number of participants allowed by the international TEDx regulations.
